

Kick off homecoming week with the Annual Johnson County Democrats BBQ Sunday Sept. 26, 2010

Johnson County will play a critical role in securing Democratic victories in key Iowa races this year. We do this with our passion and our organization. We need YOUR participation.

Our BBQ event this year features great speakers and great food, and will provide critical financial support for the office, phones, postage and all of those "nuts and bolts" that are essential to our success. Join us at the BBQ! Join us at the office as a volunteer!

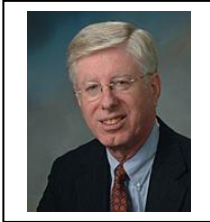

Confirmed Speakers to date:

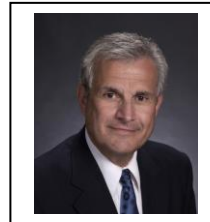

Iowa Democratic Party Chair Sue Dvorsky: We are excited to welcome home our very own Sue Dvorsky, Chair of the Iowa Democratic Party. We are honored to feature the IDP Chair for the first time ever at the Johnson County BBQ. Sue was the linchpin of the enormously successful recent campaigns of Governor Chet Culver in '06 and President Barack Obama in '08 and helped turn Iowa BLUE. Sue is an energetic leader and a spark plug speaker!

Congressman Dave Loebsack: Let's make sure that Dave returns to Washington to continue to represent us as a true progressive voice and advocate of issues important to all Iowans. As member of the House Education and Labor Committee and the House Armed Services Committee he has been active in supporting health care for Iowans, flood relief, support for our troops and education from early childhood to higher education.

Tom Miller:
Iowa Attorney General
Long serving, he was first elected in 1978. He is well known and active nationally as well as in the State.

Michael Mauro:
Iowa Secretary of State
Under Secretary Mauro's leadership we now have same day voter registration and voter verified paper-trail in all elections in Iowa.

Francis Thicke: Candidate for Secretary of Agriculture
Francis is a progressive dairy farmer and soil scientist with a new vision for Iowa food and energy production

Michael Fitzgerald:
Iowa Treasurer
Treasurer Fitzgerald knows Iowa has a strong economy and is one of seven states to earn a AAA financial rating.

Jon Murphy:
Candidate for State Auditor
Jon Murphy wants to be Iowa's "Chief Transparency Officer" and let Iowans see how their money is spent.
